Adam's Corner

Welcome to Mayfield church of Christ. If you are visiting with us, we are happy you are here. Please let us know if you have any questions for us. Please come back!

This month is a memorable month to us. We begin our 9th year serving this congregation. I'm so proud to be here and look forward to the continuing great things that happen at Mayfield. I really appreciate your encouragement in our work and am thankful for each of you.

Our mission is to teach the gospel to the lost. That is what Jesus came to do and he has now left that mission for all of us. I've enjoyed the journey here so far and am excited for the years ahead here at Mayfield! Thank You!

Let's worship God together!

We Love You!

Adam

Word of the Week

Grace

In the Old Testament, the term translated grace is ḥên, and it describes favor shown by one person to another. In fact, the term is translated favor more often than grace. It is used 69 times in the Old Testament, and in 53 of those times it is part of the phrase “to find favor” in someone’s eyes. Eleven times it is used to describe an individual’s charm.

In the New Testament, the word translated grace is charis. It refers to favor or a gift of benevolent goodwill. In the New Testament, grace is sometimes used to express the effect of generosity, and it occasionally refers to gratitude for generosity.

Jack Lewis provides an important reminder about the different ways the word grace is used: “The wide span of meanings that this word has then makes it imperative that one give special attention to any particular passage that he is dealing with that makes use of that word. Otherwise, he may be attributing to a writer an idea that the writer did not have in making use of that word.”

Because there is some variation in meaning, we need to be careful not to interpret every occurrence of grace in Scripture as a reference to God’s saving grace. Jack Cottrell provides a helpful list of three connotations for the term grace as it relates to salvation: 1. The source of salvation (an attribute of God’s nature), 2. The content of our salvation (the gift we receive), and 3. The way God saves us (His plan of salvation).² He points out that in contemporary Christian usage, grace usually indicates “saving” grace.

More than any other writer, Paul uses the term to describe the salvation event. Grace is not just a quality possessed by God, but it is actually a message proclaimed in the crucifixion of Jesus (Galatians 2:21). In Romans 5, Paul emphasizes that salvation comes from grace and not our keeping of the law, but he is careful to stress in 6:1 that receiving grace does not allow us to do whatever we would like to do. For Paul, grace means that we don’t rely on our own works, but it also means that we are not free to whatever we would like. The Giver of grace has authority in our lives.
